Our package solution for your start-up

This is where Helsana's start-up package comes in – with interesting services and benefits all from under one roof. These include, among others, a 25 percent premium discount on the daily sickness benefits insurance and accident insurance. You can benefit from Helsana's start-up package if your company has been in existence for a year or less.

This helps you to keep your fixed costs low. In addition, with our clever supplementary insurance benefits you can expand your coverage precisely where you need it.

With the Helsana Business Salary daily sickness benefits insurance you can assess the risk of losing earnings. With the compulsory accident insurance, you protect your company against the expensive consequences of accidents and occupational illnesses, and you can expand this coverage with our UVG supplementary accident insurance. What's more, our insurance products comply with CBA requirements and therefore meet all the requirements of your industry.

At Helsana you are in the best of hands – helping you get off to the best possible start. We look forward to getting to know you and your requirements.

In this regard, early detection is very important with respect to the course of the illness or injury. This is where we rely on our specialist case managers. Thanks to their many years of experience, they can detect at an early stage when sick or injured people need our help. We discuss the situation with the affected person and join forces with you and the doctors to find future opportunities of deployment.
